Selection Process

Funds will be awarded through a process designed to leverage skills and expertise of organizations working with and in immigrant communities in Seattle and King County. Applications may be submitted by individual organizations or by collaborative groups.

Eligible applicants must meet the following minimum qualifications:

- Be a nonprofit organization with a 501(c)3 status, or have a fiscal sponsor with a 501(c)3 status.

- Have prior experience providing legal representation in immigration to residents or workers in Seattle or King County.

Scope of Work

The Office of Immigrant and Refugee Affairs (OIRA) and King County Office of Equity and Social Justice (OESJ) seek applications from nonprofit organizations to provide legal representation to indigent immigrants in detention, facing removal, or in danger of losing their immigration status and who work in the city of Seattle or reside in King County. Services should also include screening for eligibility, as well as collaboration with other organizations identified by Seattle and King County to screen for eligibility and refer clients and/or to receive legal representation services.

Proposals should prioritize:

- Direct representation of individuals facing removal proceedings before the Seattle immigration courts (non-detained) and in the Northwest Detention Center (detained) who meet eligibility criteria.
- For detained individuals, the applicant organization should anticipate working with the entity(ies) conducting the Legal Orientation Program to refer individuals eligible for services to the entities providing legal services.
- For individuals who are not detained but facing removal proceedings before the Seattle immigration court, the applicant organization should anticipate including screenings and in-depth assessments as a component of the services to be provided.

Legal services must be aligned with Community Navigation services (i.e., guidance and referral for legal representation). Please see companion City of Seattle RFP for Seattle and King County Immigrant Community Navigation Services.

The successful applicants shall participate in a collaborative table along with any other organizations selected to provide legal services and community navigation services and Seattle and King County representatives, to:

- Research and review emerging best practices for providing these services nationwide.
- Set targets for services and outcomes.
- Coordinate to meet the need across different demographic and other communities.
- Coordinate among partners to adjust service models as necessary to achieve the best outcomes.

Deliverables documenting services provided will be developed with the successful applicants at the time of contract.
