Healthcare for Workers with Disabilities (HWD)

Healthcare for Workers with Disabilities (HWD) Overview

Healthcare for Workers with Disabilities (HWD) allows people with disabilities who are working to purchase medical coverage by paying a monthly premium that is based on their income.

HWD benefits include:

- Medicaid benefit package, including Medicaid personal care services;
- Greater personal and financial independence;
- Members can earn and save more without the risk of losing their healthcare coverage.

Healthcare for Workers with Disabilities (HWD) Changes

House Bill 1199 was passed by the legislature this session authorizing the HCA to consider a person's income when establishing cost-sharing requirements.

The bill removes eligibility restrictions for the program which are based on a person's age or income. This takes effect January 1, 2020.

The bill also requires HCA to seek federal approval to exclude some resources that are used when determining eligibility for other medical assistance programs.
