

09:07:18 From rblanco : ice cream
09:17:15 From Chantha : That true...
09:20:05 From deborah.drake Vassar : Pineapple upside down cake..... (mine of course)
09:22:20 From Abbie Pico : Georgina
09:23:19 From Karen McKinney : Did Anyone hear about President Biden wanting to waive the overage for Unemployment?
09:23:29 From Karen McKinney : I think Emily answered it.
09:25:20 From Steve Braverman : LOL
09:30:51 From mhall : Does that extension not apply for pregnancy coverage for undocumented persons?
09:31:10 From Georgina : Francesca, for Walisteng.org does the client has to be only WAH eligible or it is available for anyone in the community?
09:32:02 From Sharissa Tjok : Hi Francesca, I still did not see how to download 1095B in dashboard and many of my clients were asking 09:32:24 From Abbie Pico : Can you go over where to find the 1095B is t on the docs tab?
09:33:39 From zoukare : I have same problem to download 1095B from dashboard. how about for non English speaking client? they don't know how to set account.
09:34:06 From Georgina : I noticed the 1095B is only available when accessing the client's account, but no when I logging as navigator .
09:35:04 From Chantha : What about the one they don't have PC
09:35:05 From Sharissa Tjok : thanks Georgina.
09:36:46 From Abbie Pico : Can they call WHPF and have one sent to them?
09:36:46 From Enrique : enhanced navigators have access, not navigators I or II
09:36:48 From Chantha : ok thank you Callista
09:37:01 From Elissa Seid : Is there a number people can call to access their 1095-B instead of signing into their account?
09:37:34 From Francesca Matias : 1-800-562-3022
09:41:50 From Luis Villalobos Segovia : Is there retro coverage for family planning? If so do clients get reimbursed for any services they paid out of pocket prior to getting approved for FPO?
09:41:52 From Chantha : so enroll cofa and send them to you
09:42:10 From Luis Villalobos Segovia : Thank you!
09:42:25 From Ethel : I heard from a COFA eligible client that their friends had issues getting their tax refund as a result of their COFA Islander Healthcare enrollment. Have y'all heard anything about this?
09:43:51 From Ethel : Sounds good! The client never enrolled. It was just something they heard word-of-mouth.
09:45:11 From Karin Kramer : I believe you're referring to Paid Family Medical Leave not FMLA.
09:46:20 From Chantha : Yes
09:46:29 From Chantha : and this is Brenda, sorry

09:47:52 From Karin Kramer : Such as a fact sheet for new COFA applicants
09:47:58 From Selamatwit.Getahun : For Pregnancy Medical Extension request how do we contact to request extension
09:48:12 From Karin Kramer : We do have a COFA tax filing fact sheet.
hca.wa.gov/cofa
09:48:26 From Francesca Matias : I don't believe so 09:49:01 From Karin Kramer : The tax filing fact sheet is currently only in English but is at the translation vendor now. Should be posted in a few weeks in the six COFA languages.
09:50:39 From Selamatwit.Getahun : yes
09:51:44 From Georgina : Does this extension is also available for no lawfully clients who have been enrolled in OB WAH?
09:52:04 From Georgina : yes
09:52:13 From Georgina : thank you!
09:52:44 From Francesca Matias : As a follow-up, PMLA is non-countable income.
09:53:40 From mssmo : great question Geo , this is awesome!!!
09:56:55 From Francesca Matias : COFA webpage: www.hca.wa.gov/cofa 10:02:19 From Mario Paduano : We now accept telephonic signatures. There is no need to mail anything at all. You can just call us to apply and we will do it all over the phone
10:03:17 From Mario Paduano : Again, no need to do any of this to apply. We can do everything over the phone. Just give us a call 10:04:37 From genkinney : If there are two grandparents parenting a grandchild
, they split the month with caring for the child. The mother is living in another state, and the father is in the same state as the child but is MIA not supporting at all. How would the TANF Child only help the grandparents?
10:05:01 From mssmo : nothing but great news on todays fff
10:05:05 From Chantha : Mario, this is Brenda and my question is does it matter immigrant status
10:06:26 From Sam Del Vecchio : The grandparents would receive the non-needy TANF grant for the child and they would use that cash benefit for the needs of that child.
10:06:30 From Carol Allen : Do you go after he Bio parent for Child Support?
10:06:43 From Lu'isa Laulile / Pacific Islander - Tongan : how is this different from R-gap? aside from being licensed as a foster parent?
10:07:02 From Luis Villalobos Segovia : Would it still be considered Public Charge?
10:07:39 From Sam Del Vecchio : Chantha - the child must still be eligible for TANF based on immigration status. However, the caretaker or relative adults don't need to have immigration status as they are not the ones receiving the grant. We do need to verify the immigration status for the child 10:07:49 From freidagatewood : Mario, May i have your telephone number?
10:08:05 From Mario Paduano : 253-293-6726
10:08:51 From Sam Del Vecchio : Carol- yes DCS is required to set up child support for both of the parents. However, if there is a safety issue for the family, the caretaker/relative can request good cause and ask that DCS not collect support. They should mention this during the interview.

10:09:47 From Sam Del Vecchio : Luis - it is not considered public charge for the caretakers who are not receiving the grant. However, for the child receiving the grant, we are waiting to hear back from policy. Mario can share that information once he receives clarification

10:11:46 From Sam Del Vecchio : Relative Guardianship Assistance (R-GAP) also known as guardianship income is money given to families that accept permanent guardianship of relative children. These families have accepted permanent legal and financial responsibility for the child in their care. The Division of Child, Youth and Families determined that these children have special needs. This money is intended to help the family with the special expenses for the children. The income is considered the children's income.

10:11:47 From David Escame : Happy Friday to all my People. I have to drop at 10:30. Can King County and the FQHCs go over their processes to address vaccine equity today or the next call? I heard King County was working on a multi-language 800 number. Is that active? When can we give that out? Are the FQHCs calling their patients/members when they enter their phase?

10:13:05 From Sam Del Vecchio : For R-GAP, the income received must be counted for the children. Also the caregivers must be included on the TANF grant so it would be needy TANF. That means they must participate in workfirst, meet income and resource limits, etc...

10:15:08 From Carol Allen : All Thank you Sam!

10:15:28 From Nici Feldhammer : We are seeing individuals who are Medicare eligible but still listed as ABP in ProviderOne. How is the transition between MAGI Medicaid and Classic Medicaid working? Is there a delay?

10:15:55 From Sam Del Vecchio : You're welcome. If anyone has follow-up questions, please let us know :)

10:16:36 From Lu'isa Laulile / Pacific Islander - Tongan : Thank you Sam!

10:19:28 From genkinney : I don't think my question was clear, How do the two grandparents participate , can there be two cards issued, or which grandparent will need to apply?

10:21:33 From Sam Del Vecchio : genkinney - only one card will be issued for the non-needy TANF. Either grandparent can submit the application or apply over the phone if both grandparents are living together and taking care of the child together

10:22:38 From Carol Allen : 833-518-0282

10:23:26 From Sam Del Vecchio : Lu'isa - I want to clarify that the RGAP income for the child is excluded for cash programs but is countable for food.

10:24:15 From Felicia Hurt : Is this for the whole state of Washington?

10:24:35 From Sam Del Vecchio : Yes, P-EBT is for all of WA state

10:24:36 From David Escame : I have to drop. Y'all have an amazing day and wonderful weekend.

10:25:04 From Andy Som : Nici - Your question in regards to individuals who are Medicare eligible but are listed as ABP in ProviderOne - There has been a delay and I know HCA has started the process of transitioning those clients to Classic Medicaid. HCA would have more details on this topic

10:26:36 From Kathy Schirman : Is this benefit also for children birth - 5?

10:27:07 From Sam Del Vecchio : Kathy - the state has to apply separately for approval for children birth - age 5. We haven't heard back about that approval yet

<https://dshswa.medium.com/additional-pandemic-food-assistance-on-its-way-for-washington-kids-2383b08b8c7b>

10:28:59 From zemen : What is the different between the regular EBT and the PEBT?

10:29:05 From Nici Feldhammer : Thanks Andy, I will follow up with Frenchy separately.

10:29:22 From Andy Som : You are welcome Nici!

10:31:11 From Sam Del Vecchio : zemen- the P-EBT cards will only have P-EBT benefits on them. EBT cards are for food or cash benefits issued by DSHS. The P-EBT card is separate from and doesn't replace a food or cash (Quest) EBT card. This site shows a picture of what the P-EBT card looks like:

10:44:44 From Karen McKinney : Can Jennifer start over she is going in and out

10:45:07 From Karen McKinney : I can hear her now.

10:45:38 From Huma Zarif (she/her) : please reach out with any questions huma@nohla.org, also if you have any clients with Covid testing/treatment/vaccine billing issues please reach out.

10:51:51 From Karen McKinney : how do you get to the website if we have to register the client?

10:51:58 From Karen McKinney : or the Portal that is?

10:52:27 From Steve Braverman : I'm sorry...I'm not seeing the link

10:52:34 From Karen McKinney : Okay thank you Jennifer, I got my answer.

10:52:42 From Lissette Gutierrez : don't see the Portal

10:52:54 From Jennifer Covert : <https://reducedfare.kingcounty.gov/>

10:53:29 From Steve Braverman : thanks!

10:54:18 From Carol Allen : All presentations and links will be posted on the FFF website at www.kingcounty.gov/fff.

10:57:35 From Mario Paduano : Hi Everyone. I apologize but I have to step off for another meeting. Feel free to contact me if you have additional questions:

Mario.paduano@dshs.wa.gov

11:03:44 From Nici Feldhammer : Sign CHPW up to be at the events!
11:06:56 From Karen McKinney : is it only for Immigrants? or Everyone?
11:07:06 From Karen McKinney : Thank you so much.
11:07:13 From Nicole Oman : HAR , this is wonderful thank you Daphne
11:08:51 From Selamawit.Getahun : Contact tracing number please
