Proposed route revisions will connect to Link light rail and increase service levels in rural areas. Here are some highlights of proposed changes:

- Revised Route 224 – Frequency between Duvall and Redmond increased from every 90 minutes to every 60 minutes all day, and connects the route to SE Redmond Link station, with service on NE Union Hill Road.
- New Route 215 – Replaces Route 208 (North Bend and Snoqualmie to Issaquah), but with increased frequency to every 45 minutes during the peak, and 90 minutes during other times, compared to every 130 minutes today. The new route will also extend to the Mercer Island Link station for service to Seattle, Bellevue, and Redmond.
- Revised Route 931 – During the peak period, a new connection directly between Duvall, Cottage Lake, Woodinville, and Bothell.
