1. Opening Remarks and Introductions

Lois North made introductory comments and asked for approval of minutes from the April 24, 2007 meeting. The minutes were approved as distributed.

Mike Sinsky reminded the commissioners that their communications are subject to the laws of the Public Disclosure Act (PDA), and that the response timeline to PDA's is five (5) days. He stressed that it is imperative, if anyone receives a request regarding the PDA, that the staff be notified immediately.

2. Guest Speakers

Sonny Putter, representative of Suburban Cities Association (SCA), stated that the SCA represents 37 cities in regional policy and planning. Part of the Charter required the formation of specialized committees, and the SCA participates on the Regional Water Quality and Transit & Policy committees to review county policies and planning. In the past, the SCA has given testimony and comments to the CRC on different areas of concern. The SCA's past recommendations included the following:

1. Revising the charter process so that the recommendations of the commission must be submitted to the voters as drafted by the commission;
2. Providing citizens with the right to amend the charter through the citizen initiative process;
3. Separating the county regional budget from the local service budget;
4. Changing council positions from partisan to non-partisan; and,
5. Maintaining the regional committees of the council

The SCA now has appointed a task force to focus on the areas of concern of its member cities. The task force may reaffirm previous recommendations, and will also consider new issues and positions.

A lengthy question and discussion of Mr. Putter's comments ensued.

Commissioner Jim English, of the Vashon/Maury Island Community Council, and Tom Carpenter, of the Four Creeks Unincorporated Area Council (UAC), presented their views to the CRC.

Mr. English explained that the UACs, created in 1994 by county legislative action, represent six geographical areas and were formed to improve communication between county government and the residents of unincorporated King County.

Some charter amendments that the Vashon/Maury Island Community Council would like to see are:

1. Establishing an annual UAC forum sponsored the Executive, and attended by the Executive, key staff members and senior department staff. Establishing an additional yearly forum sponsored by the council;
2. Establishing a requirement for a semiannual Executive-sponsored Operations Cabinet meeting;
3. Directing each county agency to communicate, cooperate and fully integrate any and all overlapping regulatory, policy, and procedural processes with their county agency counterparts;
4. Clearly delineating and defining the defined limits of citizen complaint process;
5. Directing the county to act as an advocate on behalf of its ferry-served communities

A lengthy question and discussion of Mr. English's comments ensued, particularly focusing on: What a citizen's complaint system would look like, support of the ferry-served communities, and unrepresented areas of unincorporated areas.

The Greater Maple Valley UAC also submitted written comments.

Tom Carpenter, representative of the Four Creeks UAC, presented his organization's recommended amendments. He noted that the area represented by the county is mainly rural, and about 80% of it is land which has led to rural vs. urban land use issues. Because growth is inevitable, in the future the area will need to look at how to work cooperatively with urban areas to ensure a shared vision that will enhance livable and economically sound communities.

The Four Creeks UAC's recommendations are:

1. Create a cross-functional empowered Department of Unincorporated and Rural Affairs;
2. Create a comprehensive subarea planning process for unincorporated King County, such as is done in municipalities;
1. Divide the county council into two houses, one based on population apportioning and the other based on land apportioning

A discussion of Mr. Carpenter's comments ensued with questions on the new council structure would work.

3. Public Hearings

Mark Yango presented the final public outreach meeting schedule and confirmed the attendance of the commissioners at each of the 9 meetings. The first meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June
