ARY FAQ's:

Why should I get an ARY petition?

To obtain assistance and support from the juvenile court in maintaining the care, custody and control of the child and to assist in the resolution of family conflict, after alternatives to court intervention have been attempted.

Does my youth qualify?

An at-risk youth is defined by statute as a child under the age of 18 who meets at least one of the following three requirements:
1. Is absent from home for at least 72 consecutive hours without parental consent; OR
2. Is beyond parental control such that his/her behavior endangers the health, safety, or welfare of the child or any other person; OR
3. Has a substance abuse problem for which there are no pending criminal charges relating to the substance abuse.

The law requires that the petitioner attempt an intervention to improve the youth's behavior prior to filing an ARY petition.
For example: Individual/Family Counseling or Drug/Alcohol Treatment

If you have not attempted alternatives to court intervention, FRS can offer twelve (12) hours of free in-home counseling (see number below)

Who can file a petition?

Only the parent of the child may file the ARY petition. "Parent" is defined as the person(s) having legal right to custody of the child and includes custodian or guardian.

What do I need to do get the process started?

Contact your local Family Reconciliation Services (FRS) office at DCYF and request an appointment for intake and assessment. At the conclusion of this meeting, the intake caseworker will prepare a Family Assessment. Request a copy of the family assessment and attach it to the petition prior to filing. The Court must have a copy of the FRS assessment before proceeding with the petition.

IF YOU HAVE NOT OBTAINED THE FAMILY ASSESSMENT IN TIME FOR THE FACT FINDING HEARING, THE FACT FINDING HEARING WILL BE CONTINUED.

Family Reconciliation Services (FRS)
1-800-609-8764 Days, 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
1-800-562-5624 After hours, 4:30 p.m. - 8 a.m.

Where do I file the petition?

Petitions must be filed in the Court Clerk's Office at the Regional Justice Center (401 - 4th Ave. N, Kent) or at the Clark Children & Family Justice Center (1211 East Alder St., Seattle). Petitions can be filed at any location, but hearings will occur in the courthouse corresponding to the zip code the parent resides in. Generally, Seattle, Eastside and North King County cases will be heard in Seattle and South King County will be heard in Kent.
(Note: The Clerk's Office closes for lunch from 12:15 to 1:15, Monday-Friday.)

Are there any costs?

There is no cost to file a petition or for the FRS Family Assessment.
The parent shall be financially responsible for costs related to the court-ordered plan (counseling, drug/alcohol evaluations/treatment, mental health evaluations, etc.).

Who can I contact if I need assistance with the petition process?

If you need more assistance you may call a case manager: Karen Chapman for Seattle, Eastside, or North King County addresses at (206) 477-4946 or Amy Andree at (206) 477-2759 for all South King County addresses.

How do I need to inform the youth about the court date?

To be properly served, a nonparty (someone other than the parent), over the age of eighteen, must have handed a party, a copy of the documents that are coming before the court.
After the server delivers the court papers to the opposing party, the server should complete the Declaration of Service form. That form requires the server to make a sworn statement to the court (under oath) that s/he served the party with the necessary court papers. The server should date and sign the Declaration of Service at the bottom and return it to the party requesting his/her services. That form constitutes "proof of service" and must be brought to the hearing.

Since this is a court proceeding, are there attorneys involved?

The child is automatically assigned a court-appointed attorney for all hearings. Under the ARY petition, a parent is not entitled to a court-appointed attorney, regardless of financial need. A parent always has the right to obtain an attorney at his/her own expense.

Are interpreters available if someone does not speak English?

If someone needs an interpreter for a court hearing, tell the Clerk's office staff at the time of filing. King County Superior Court will pay for all interpreter services.

What kinds of things can the Court order?

If the Court determines a youth to be at-risk, the Court can put in place a court order requiring:

Youth Shall

- attend school with no unexcused absences, tardies or behavioral suspensions
- obtain a drug and alcohol evaluation
- obtain a psychiatric, psychological or mental evaluation
- submit to random urinalysis
- not use nor possess non-prescribed drugs, alcohol
- obey curfew
- enroll in and attend individual or family counseling
- reside with parent
- have no contact with…
- not allow others in parents home without permission
- not be physically or verbally abusive to people or property

Parents Shall

- ensure enrollment in school program
- arrange evaluation appointments for youth
- post written household rules and chore expectations
- enroll in and attend individual and family counseling or parenting classes
- not be physically or verbally abusive to people or property

What kinds of things can the Court not order?

The State of Washington is a non-involuntary placement state. Therefore, the Court can not order inpatient placement in treatment facilities.

What happens if a party does not follow the court order?

Failure by any party to comply with a court order is contempt of court. Violations of the court order should be reported to the court through the filing of a contempt motion. A contempt motion may be filed by a parent, a child or a person/agency having custody of the child. If the court makes a finding of contempt at a contempt hearing, the court may impose coercive sanctions, such as research papers or community service hours, or other interventions to address behaviors.

A parent must file additional paperwork requesting a consequence for noncompliance of a court order. Do not wait for a scheduled review hearing to report violations of the court's orders. An appointment with a case manager is necessary to file a contempt motion.

What should we do if our situation is urgent/crisis and we can not wait for a court date?

At-Risk Youth Petitions-Summary

Parents may file petitions with the Superior Court to ask for assistance with children who are running away, using drugs or alcohol, or are generally out of the control of their parents and are a danger either to themselves or others. They may be obtained from The Clark Children & Family Justice Center (1211 E. Alder Street, Seattle, Room 3161) or The Regional Justice Center (401 4th Ave N., Kent, Room 1-D) and can be filed without assistance from Superior Court personnel. Parents must contact Family Reconciliation Services for a family assessment prior to filing a petition. In general, most cases follow this process:

Step 1:
Contact Family Reconciliation Services for a Family Assessment. Family Reconciliation Services (1-800-609-8764) may offer free in-home counseling to families in crisis in order to avoid the need to go to court.

Step 2:
Complete an At-Risk Youth Petition. File your completed petition, along with the family assessment, with the Clerk's Office. You will be given a date and time for the fact-finding (trial). Your child will need to be legally served with the hearing date and petition. (Instructions below)

Step 3:
Attend the Fact-Finding Hearing with your child. The judicial officer will decide whether your child is, according to the law, an at-risk youth. If the petition is granted the court will order your child, and possibly you, to take some action. You will be given a new court date for you and your child to return for a Review Hearing.

Step 4:
Attend a Review Hearing with your child. The judicial officer will ask you and your child to discuss what progress has been made on what the court has ordered. Some additions or changes may be made to the order at this time, however there would be no consequences for non-compliance unless a parent filed a motion for contempt.

Step 5:
If necessary, file a Motion for Contempt. If you believe your child is not obeying the court order, and would like to court to take action, you must file a motion for a contempt hearing with the case manager assigned to the location you have your first hearing. At this hearing, you and your child will have an opportunity to talk about what happened and why. You will also be asked how you would like the court to respond.

If you have questions about filing a petition, contact the case manager assigned to your child's school district:
Clark Children and Family Justice Center (Seattle): Karen Chapman, 206-477-4946
(Seattle, Vashon, Bellevue, Issaquah, Lake Washington, Mercer Island, Northshore, Riverview, Shoreline, Skykomish, & Snoqualmie school districts)

Maleng Regional Justice Center (Kent): Amy Andree 206-477-2759
(Kent, Renton, Tukwila, Tahoma, Highline, Federal Way, Auburn & Enumclaw school districts)

Filing an At-Risk Youth Petition

- Contact Family Reconciliation Services at 1-800-609-8764 (days) or 1-800-562-5624 (evenings) and ask for a family assessment. This assessment is required in order to file a petition.

- Get a blank At-Risk Youth petition at the Clark Children & Family Justice Center (1211 E. Alder Street, Seattle, Room 3161)) or The Regional Justice Center (401 4th Ave N., Kent, Room 1-D) or call a case manager (see phone numbers below), and ask for a packet to be mailed to you. Complete the petition in your own words. You will be asked to explain how your child is behaving, how you have tried to change this behavior, and how you would like to court to respond. You may complete this petition without help from anyone in the courthouse.

- When you have completed the petition, you must file it in person with the Clerk's office in Seattle or Kent. You will be given a court date. Note: Clerks Offices are closed for lunch from 12:15 – 1:15 M-F.

- If you would like an interpreter for your court hearing, please inform the clerk before you leave the clerk's office.

- Have someone 18 years old or older, other than you, serve your child with the petition and the court date. This person, the server, must complete the required service paperwork so you can prove that your child was properly served.

If you have questions about filing a petition, contact the case manager assigned to your child's school district:
Clark Children and Family Justice Center (Seattle): Karen Chapman, 206-477-4946
(Seattle, Vashon, Bellevue, Issaquah, Lake Washington, Mercer Island, Northshore, Riverview, Shoreline, Skykomish, & Snoqualmie school districts)

(Kent, Renton, Tukwila, Tahoma, Highline, Federal Way, Auburn & Enumclaw school districts)

At-Risk Youth Fact-Finding Hearing

- A fact-finding hearing is the first court hearing in the At-Risk Youth petition process. A judicial officer will decide whether your child is an at-risk youth, according to the law.

- The hearing may be heard when you arrive, or you may have to wait for several hours before you can see a judicial officer. Please keep this in mind when bringing small children. You may want to bring a book or a magazine with you to read while you wait.

- At your hearing, the judicial officer will hear from you and your child about your case. You should be prepared to explain why you would like this petition to be granted, what behaviors your child has been engaging in (including dates and times when the youth left the home without permission). It is helpful to come prepared to address your child's curfew, school attendance and grades, services you have tried in the past, and services you would like to try, and what you would like the court to include in the order.

- Your child will have an attorney at this hearing. This attorney will be representing your child's wishes, which may not be the same as your wishes.

- If the judicial officer agrees that your child is at risk, a court order will be issued with requirements for your child, and possibly you.

- A case manager will be assigned to work with you and your family to help you meet the requirements of the court order.

- A date for a review hearing will be given to you before you leave the courtroom.

If you have questions about filing a petition, contact the case manager assigned to your child's school district:
Clark Children and Family Justice Center (Seattle): Karen Chapman, 206-477-4946
(Seattle, Vashon, Bellevue, Issaquah, Lake Washington, Mercer Island, Northshore, Riverview, Shoreline, Skykomish, & Snoqualmie school districts)

Maleng Regional Justice Center (Kent): Amy Andree 206-477-2759
(Kent, Renton, Tukwila, Tahoma, Highline, Federal Way, Auburn & Enumclaw school districts)

At-Risk Youth Review Hearing

- At the review hearing, the judicial officer will hear from you and your child about the progress being made on what the court has ordered.

- The hearing may be heard when you arrive, or you may have to wait for several hours before you can see a judicial officer. Please keep this in mind when bringing small children. You may want to bring a book or a magazine with you to read while you wait.

- Changes may be made to the court order based on what the judicial officer hears during the hearing. There would be no consequences for non-compliance unless a parent filed a motion for contempt.

- Before you leave the courtroom, another court date will be given to you.

If you have questions about filing a petition, contact the case manager assigned to your child's school district:
Clark Children and Family Justice Center (Seattle): Karen Chapman, 206-447-4946
(Seattle, Vashon, Bellevue, Issaquah, Lake Washington, Mercer Island, Northshore, Riverview, Shoreline, Skykomish, & Snoqualmie school districts)

Maleng Regional Justice Center (Kent): Amy Andree 206-477-2759
(Kent, Renton, Tukwila, Tahoma, Highline, Federal Way, Auburn & Enumclaw school districts)

At-Risk Youth Contempt Hearing

- If you believe that your child is not obeying the court order, and you would like the court to take action, you must file a motion for a contempt hearing.

- You will need to meet with a case manager in the Superior Court to complete this paperwork. Please contact a case manager to arrange an appointment for this.

- At the contempt hearing, the judicial officer will decide whether the child has violated the court order. If the youth has, the court may impose consequences to address the violation.

- The hearing may be heard when you arrive, or you may have to wait for several hours before you can see a judicial officer. Please keep this in mind when bringing small children. You may want to bring a book or a magazine with you to read while you wait.

If you have questions about filing a petition, contact the case manager assigned to your child's school district:
