

How to Ask for a Parenting Plan (and Child Support if needed)

You can use this packet ONLY if:

- You were never married to the other parent of your child,
- You want a parenting plan and perhaps a child support order for that child,
- An Acknowledgment of Paternity was filed at the Washington Center for Health Statistics (or similar state agency if the child was born in another state), and
- The Acknowledgment of Paternity was filed after July 27, 1997 and at least 60 days before you file your request for a parenting plan.

Do NOT use this packet if:

- You are married to the other parent of this child or
- There is already a custody or parenting plan order for this child, or
- You want to challenge paternity or ask the court to order blood tests.

Note: This instruction will start your case, but it will not give you immediate custody of the child(ren). If you would like to address immediate residential placement/custody, please ask the facilitator for information on how to file for a Temporary Parenting Plan.

Talk to a lawyer, if you can

These instructions have been developed by the King County Superior Court Family Law Information Center. They are not intended to be a substitute for legal advice. They provide only legal information. It's a good idea to talk to a lawyer before you file any forms. If you cannot afford a lawyer, you can:

- Find a lawyer to help you with the most difficult parts of your case, such as reviewing your forms, explaining how to get ready for court and confirming this is the best legal action for your case. You can contact the King County Bar Association to ask for a referral.
- Ask the Family Law Facilitator's office for a list of low-cost and free legal resources.

Child Support Schedule & Instructions	Use this information to calculate Child Support Worksheets. Online Child Support Calculation software is available at https://fortress.wa.gov/dshs/dcs/SSGen/Home

Step 3: Talk to a lawyer, if you can

These instructions are legal information, not legal advice. It's a good idea to talk to a lawyer before you file any forms. If you cannot afford a lawyer, you can:

- Find a lawyer to help you with the most difficult parts of your case, such as reviewing your forms, explaining how to get ready for court and confirming this is the best legal action for your case. You can contact the King County Bar Association to ask for a referral.
- Ask the Family Law Facilitator' office for a list of low-cost and free legal resources.

Step 4: Take your original forms and copies to the Clerk's Office

The Clerk will ask you to pay a filing fee. If you cannot afford to pay the fee, ask for an application to let you file for free. This application is called a Motion and Declaration for Waiver of Civil Filing Fees and Surcharges (Kent) or (Seattle).

When you file your forms, the clerk will give you two copies of your Case Schedule. The Case Schedule lists important deadlines for your case. Have one copy of the Case Schedule served on the other parent along with the other court papers. Keep one for your records.

Important! You do not need to file all of your forms now. See Step 2 to know which forms you must file now.

Step 5: Serve the other party

You must have the other parent served with copies of:

- The Case Schedule that the Clerk gave you when you filed, and
- All of the forms you filed with the clerk, except the Case Assignment Area Form & Case Index Cover Sheets and the Confidential Information Form.

How to serve

Someone over 18 – not you - must serve (give) the other parent copies of your court papers. After serving, the server fills out a Proof of Personal Service form and gives it to you. Keep a copy for your own records and file the original with the Clerk's Office.

Note: For personal service outside of Washington State, the signature of the server must be notarized or sworn before a court clerk on this form.

If you have questions about serving, please ask the facilitator for information on Service.

Step 6: Attend "What About the Children" seminar

Both parents must attend the "What About the Children" seminar within 60 days after the case is filed. You cannot finish your case without going to this class.

Go to the Family Law Facilitator's Office for information or to register (W-382 in Seattle and 3D in Kent).

Step 7: Follow your Case Schedule

The next step is to wait to see if the other parent files a Response.

You must wait:

20 days	If the other parent was served in person in Washington state.
60 days	If the other parent was served in person outside of Washington state, or by publication (because of a court order).
90 days	If the other parent was served by mail because of a court order.

If the other parent does not serve and file a Response by the deadline, you can finalize your case by default in the Ex Parte Department (See Step 8).

If the parent does serve and file a Response, follow your Case Schedule. Your trial will be in about 11 months.

If you want to ask for a temporary parenting plan and/or temporary child support orders now, ask the Family Law Facilitators for instruction packet P-8, Motion for Temporary Orders.

Step 8: Schedule a hearing in the Ex Parte Department to finalize by agreement or by default*

If you and the other parent come to an agreement, or if the other parent does not respond, you can finalize your case in the Ex Parte Department. To schedule a hearing date, file an Ex Parte Notice of Court Date (Commissioners), for Kent or Seattle. Your hearing must be at least 14 days after you file the Ex Parte Notice of Court Date (Commissioners). The facilitators have specific instructions on finalizing your agreed case at ex parte if needed.

Take the following completed forms to the hearing:

- Final Order and Findings for a Parenting Plan, Residential Schedule and/or Child Support
- Final Parenting Plan
- Child Support Order (if applicable)
- Child Support Worksheets (if applicable)

And, if the other parent has not responded:

- Motion for Default
- Order on Motion for Default

*You may have to pay a fee for review of your documents at the final hearing.
