

FMD and KCSO, in concert with representatives from affected tenants, (i.e.; Presiding Judges Office, Prosecutors Office, and King County Council) will determine if all, part or none of the affected facility will be closed and or evacuated in response to the security breach.

XXI. APPENDIX A – PROHIBITED AND PERMITTED ITEMS

The purpose of this Appendix is to establish a common list of items that are specifically prohibited from entry into King County Court facilities by court order and law. This Appendix will also establish a list of items that may be allowed entry. This is not intended to be a complete or comprehensive list.

At times Marshals may allow or turn away items not included herein at their discretion. Items that have been altered from their original use or intent may also be prohibited. Laws relating to other prohibited items or weapons may be located in Title 9.41 RCW, Firearms and Dangerous Weapons as well as local city ordinances.

King County Employees, working in the capacity of construction, repair and maintenance, and who are on assignment in court facilities, may be allowed to bring in tools of their trade. Contract workers may also be allowed, after notification and verification of their work by the Facilities Management Division.

Commissioned law enforcement personnel and deputy prosecuting attorneys may bring exhibits (evidence) in a pending court case into court facilities. All other evidentiary exhibits (of prohibited items) must be cleared by a Court Protection Unit Sergeant.

Persons employed in the building may bring office equipment, supplies and ordinary kitchen utensils into court facilities.

Hazards – Marshals will not hold for safekeeping any prohibited items (i.e.; used razors, dirty eating utensils, etc.) that appear to be a hazard.

Illegal items – Marshals shall confiscate any items that are illegal to possess by law. Persons found in possession of illegal items may be arrested and charged under law.

Generally speaking, commissioned Law Enforcement personnel on official business are excluded from the provisions of this document.
