

Fact Sheet: Health Through Housing – Redmond

King County

In July 2021, King County purchased its fourth Health Through Housing hotel, the former Silver Cloud in Redmond for a total of $28.25 million. The county's purchase of the Silver Cloud will house residents experiencing, and at risk of, chronic homelessness. As with all purchases pursued through the Health through Housing Initiative. King County consulted with the Redmond Mayor and city staff in advance of the purchase.

About the hotel

The hotel in Redmond at 2122 152nd Ave Northeast is conveniently located near transportation options and other services. It was constructed in 1984 and contains 144 units. It sits on approximately 1.94 acres.

How it will serve the community

As part of the HTH program, this building will serve initially as emergency supportive housing and will later be converted to permanent supportive housing (PSH) for people experiencing chronic homelessness. All Health Through Housing properties will include 24/7 staffing and onsite supports to help very vulnerable people regain health and stability. Responding to the region's crisis of unsheltered homelessness, this building will allow persons experiencing or at risk of chronic homelessness to stabilize in a safe, single-room setting with a bathroom and bed.

Services Available:

- 24/7 onsite staffing and controlled access
- Case management services
- Access to physical and behavioral health services
- Housing counseling

Good Neighbor Commitment

Property operators and service providers are committed to being responsive to local jurisdiction and community concerns. All buildings will have 24/7 staffing. Health Through Housing sites have a code of conduct that is agreed upon by all residents at the time of entry.

About Health Through Housing

The Health Through Housing (HTH) initiative is a regional approach to addressing chronic homelessness on a countywide scale. By the end of 2022, King County will partner with local jurisdictions to create up to 1,600 emergency and permanent supportive housing units for people experiencing, and at risk of, chronic homelessness. By acquiring existing facilities, such as former hotels, nursing homes, and other similar properties, HTH quickly creates housing that is dignified, protective, and service enriched. King County is committed to working with local cities and communities to identify suitable properties and will participate in planning and community engagement together.

To date, King County purchased four hotels in the Health through Housing initiative:

- Renton – former extended stay hotel with 110 units
- Seattle – Inn at Queen Anne with 80 units
- North Seattle – former Holiday Inn Express with 99 units
- Redmond – former Silver Cloud Inn with 144 units

Definitions

Chronic Homelessness

A household that includes an adult with a disability, that either is currently experiencing homelessness for at least twelve consecutive months or has experienced homelessness for a cumulative twelve months within the previous three years.

Emergency Supportive Housing

Housing where a person experiencing, or at risk of, chronic homelessness can reside while seeking permanent housing. While intended to be temporary, there is no time limit on stays. Emergency supportive housing will offer housing-oriented services, case management, and other necessary services and supports to assist individuals in stabilizing health and wellbeing.

Permanent Supportive Housing

Permanent housing for an individual or a household that is homeless on entry, where a member of the household has a condition of disability, such as chronic health issues, mental illness, substance use, or other condition that creates multiple and serious ongoing barriers to housing stability.
