The Magnolia Wet Weather Storage Facility is back online, restoration wrapping up

King County's project in Magnolia is coming to a close. The County's contractor conducted inspections of the newly installed pipe as King County's Operations crews prepared the storage facility and associated equipment for operations. The plug preventing flows from entering the pipe was removed in late December 2018 and the pipe is ready to take flows during large storms. King County Operations will monitor operations of the facility and inspect the pipe again after the rainy season.

King County's geotechnical consultant has concluded survey work on West Galer Street, and restoration has begun. We appreciate the community's patience as the contractor put in additional wells for underground surveying. No additional work, aside from restoration, is expected at this time.

The project team will provide an update on progress to date to the Magnolia Community Council at their regularly scheduled Board Meeting on Tuesday, January 15.

Please read below for more information about remaining activities at each site area.

Restoration at Smith Cove Park

Major restoration of the athletic field is now complete. The contractor expects to remove fencing this month, now that grass is established.

Restoration at 32nd Avenue West

King County's contractor is working with Seattle Parks and Recreation to finalize restoration plans for areas of Magnolia Park by the construction site. Final restoration on 32nd Avenue West is expected to take place in early 2019.

We do not anticipate traffic impacts from the remaining construction work, but we will keep you up to date if anything changes.

West Galer Street

King County's geotechnical consultant completed geophysical surveys using monitoring equipment installed on West Galer Street. At this time, additional work on Galer is not anticipated aside from restoration. Restoration of the right-of-way will be completed according to City of Seattle requirements. We will notify the community of work and any traffic impacts.

What you can expect:

- Work hours: The contractor will perform work in regular construction hours from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m.
- Traffic flow past the work site will be maintained. Watch for flaggers and please drive slowly to protect crews, other drivers and pedestrians.
