PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, in King County, the Public Health Reserve Corps works tirelessly through its many volunteers to help when emergencies occur, and provides support to Public Health and all of King County in its effort to respond to pandemics, severe weather, earthquakes, and countless other emergencies; and

WHEREAS, throughout 2021, Public Health Reserve Corps members were critical to Public Health's efforts to ensure equitable access to the vaccine by supporting COVID vaccination clinics for first responders, mass COVID vaccination sites, and community-based vaccination events; and

WHEREAS, Public Health Reserve Corps members provided crucial support to other COVID response efforts, including Isolation and Quarantine facilities, Personal Protective Equipment packing events, and community well-being events, as well as other efforts critical to the health and well-being of the whole community; and

WHEREAS, the 626 Public Health Reserve Corps members generously donated a total of 23,365 volunteer hours to King County; and

WHEREAS, our County depends on Public Health Reserve Corps volunteers' time, talents, and expertise to fulfill our mission of improving the health and well-being of King County residents, and despite challenging economic times, the Public Health Reserve Corps continues to offer help and comfort to those in need.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Dow Constantine, Executive of King County, do hereby proclaim the week of April 17 to April 23, 2022 to be in King County. During National Volunteer Week, I encourage all residents to celebrate volunteers in their communities and the role that they play in improving our collective quality of life.

Public Health Reserve Corps Week
