By this GAO, effective January 9, 2007, the Court reinstates policy number OPR-2005-1 on Inclement Weather. Policy number OPR-2005-1, originally put into effect on December 16, 2004 states:

“In the event of inclement weather, each location of the King County District Court will follow the closure decision for the school district that services that location, except for essential personnel for the jail calendars. If the school district decides to delay its start time, rather than close, King County District Court will operate on its normal schedule.

Closures at the Regional Justice Center will be determined by the decisions made for the Kent School District except for essential personnel for jail calendars; and closures at Seattle will be determined by the decisions made for the Seattle School District except for essential personnel for the jail calendars. The Office of the Presiding Judge will be included as part of the Seattle Location for purposes of this policy. Each location shall follow the school district that services that location as follows:

South Division:

- Kent – Kent School District
- Burien – Highline School District

East Division:

- Bellevue – Bellevue School District
- Redmond – Lake Washington School District
- Issaquah – Issaquah School District

West Division:

- Shoreline – Shoreline School District
- Seattle – Seattle School District”
